

CREATING A CYCLIST HUB

SOLAR PANEL

This powers the lights in the area making the pavilion self-sustaining and off the grid.

BIKE SIGN

As route 40 is to car travelers, this bike trail is to cyclists. The "BIKE" sign is inspired by neon signs seen on Route 40 to draw attention. It's appealing to a traveler seeking to leave a smaller footprint.

BIKE REPAIR STATION

The shelter is meant to be a stop on the trail. Much like a gas station, this shelter gives its users the opportunity to repair and be on their way.

COMMUNITY

Of equal, if not of more importance to the success of this space is the sense of community it encourages. A group of cyclists can reacquaint here and that's the entire point always: to bring people together.
