

CYCLICALITY

> BOSTON, MA 2017

'Cyclicity' departs from the nature of routine lifestyles, studying the potential for natural patterns to [re]form and [re]program public space.

The project challenges conventions of public space activity by enabling or inhibiting events at times misaligned with human cultural routine. By calibrating event phasing to the cyclicity of natural patterns instead, unique social and cultural experiences can emerge.